PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the future of this nation, and perhaps of the world, rests on the integrity and commitment of young Americans who make up almost half of our population, and;

WHEREAS, if our children are to be enriched and not despoiled by the abundance of our naterial life, we must search our own hearts and minds, our own values and priorities, to be sure that moral and spiritual qualities are not submerged or blunted in the selfish quest for personal security, comfort, and luxury, and;

WHEREAS, during this week set aside as Youth Temperance Education Week, let us consider how we may help our youngsters develop the moral and spiritual strength proudly to accept the challenge to build a better future for all mankind--to alert young people to the dangers of intemperance and to assist them in the development of moral strength, physical fitness and civic responsibility;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, NILS A. BOE, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim the week beginning April 23, 1967, as--

YOUTH TEMPERANCE EDUCATION WEEK
